

IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

THE INTERCOLONIAL AND THE WINTER PORT.

That the Intercolonial Railway is being made a donkey-engine of the C.P.R., was the charge made in the House last night by the Honourable H. R. Emmerson, ex-Minister of Railways.

By an arrangement entered into on November 15th last, to continue until May 13th next, the Intercolonial agrees to run trains between Halifax and St. John to connect with the C.P. and Allan steamers, at a charge of $18 per car of 60,000 lbs. if loaded with wheat or flour, and of $22.50 per car if loaded with any other commodities. The C.P.R. pays for first-class passengers $2.00, second-class $1.50, all passengers' baggage free. Total cost not to exceed a maximum of $300 per train, a distance of 275 miles. The rate is 3 cents per hundred lbs. on grain and flour, as against 10 cents per hundred lbs. for 418 miles between Winnipeg and Fort William, and 3 3-4 cents per hundred

Hon. Mr. Emmerson stated that it was in order to render the C.P.R. this cheap service that train service had been reduced and rates raised elsewhere throughout the Maritime Provinces. The Premier had declared that the arrangement between the Intercolonial and the C.P.R. was made by the manager of the Intercolonial as a business proposition, without direction or pressure from himself or any member of the Government. Mr. Emmerson asked: "What is the manager of the Intercolonial? To the question he replied: "Mr. Guitileus." "And who is Mr. Guitileus?" "For many years an employee of the C.P.R. high in its confidence and service, who was recently loaned by that company to the Government of Canada for a period of two years as manager of the Intercolonial, at a salary of $20,000 a year." Since taking the management he had made it his business to subordinate the Intercolonial to the C.P.R., not only by such arrangements as the one under discussion, but also by replacing responsible and capable Intercolonial railway men, such as he himself was from the C.P.R., and in many cases unduly and illegally depleting the provident fund of the Intercolonial Railway employees. No answer was made to Mr. Emmerson's statement. Although the discussion had been going on during the afternoon, neither the Minister of Railways nor the Minister Looming directly behind the railroad deal is the ancient rivalry between the winter ports of St. John and Halifax; and the suggestion that the interests of the Intercolonial have been sacrificed in order to make possible the further sacrifice of the in-

Kerats of St. John. During the present winter the C.P.R. and Allan boats make Halifax their terminal port instead of St. John, as in former years. The C.P.R. have a line from Montreal to St. John. They have docks, warehouses, elevators and all port accommodations at St. John. They could not have afforded to reach St. John and make Halifax if the company

As Halifax is nearer Liverpool than St. John, no doubt it is to the advantage of the C.P.R. to be enabled to the Halifax as their terminal port but that seems to be scarcely sufficient reason why the people of Canada at large, through the Intercolonial, should carry the burden of their doing so. As St. John is further from Liverpool than Halifax, so it is nearer Western Canada, and naturally the interests of the West are in the use of the ocean port that gives the shortest possible rail haul. Although the Intercolonial is carrying grain from St. John to Halifax at a loss, the price paid is just so much taken off the value to the producer, as compared with the rate from St. John to Liverpool by steamer direct.

naturally, the St. John people resent the injury to their interests, but when they demand the protection of the Government the reply is that the Government knows nothing about the matter. When the steamship subsidies were revised last year, the companies were allowed to choose their own winter port without regard to the amount of subsidy. The St. John people, of course, assuming that as the C.P.R. had their port facil-

as at St. John, it was safe to assume that the C.P.R. and the Allan's, which are controlled by the C.P.R., could come to St. John. They had not figured on the joker in the pack, namely, Gutleus, C.P.R. employee.

AUTHORS TO FORM UNION.
London, Feb. 16.—A number of leading authors discussed among themselves a scheme for the betterment of authorship as a profession at the Lyceum Club last week. Their grievance was one of remuneration chiefly. Some of them even cast aspersions upon the public taste in pro-ring avowedly poor literature rather than good, but during the discussion all agreed that the authors could join forces and demand a place just as do the barristers and doctors. The meeting finally passed resolution in favor of the formation

a union, supported by a magazine their own.

JOHN HUNTER, Editor
A. W. 1914

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1914

A correspondent encloses a clipping from the Winnipeg Telegram of February 4th which reads as follows: "Satisfaction was expressed around the city yesterday afternoon, especially at the works and property committee, regarding the decision of the provincial government to 'cancel' that the Provincial Government had decided to offer rewards of $1,000 each for facts 'that would lead to the apprehension and conviction of the persons or parties responsible for the deaths of Mrs. Finestone and Alex. Helbo. Because of this action, rewards totaling $6,000 are now in operation and the city council on January 26th agreed to 'for $3,000 if the same procedure was followed by the government.' Natural and correspondent think it might help to the capture of the Hargreaves and McNulty murderers if the Edmonton and Alberta authorities would offer rewards for information leading to their apprehension and conviction. The conclusion is eminently reasonable. The practice of offering rewards for such information is very common and frequently leads to the capture of criminals who would probably not be otherwise brought to justice. If followed in these local cases the course would at least indicate that the city and Provincial authorities desire that the murderers should be rounded up. The moral effect of a demonstration of that character is widely noted and greatly to be desired. Under the circumstances, failure to offer rewards can only be comprehended on the supposition that the authorities are in some way concerned whether the murderers are caught or not.

Mr. Champ Clark, whose annexation nonsense did more to defeat reciprocal trade than any other factor, has been warning the nations of Europe to "keep hands off the southern republics" they did. The Unionists in the House of Lords took the matter up and adding an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne. This is taken in London as an attempt to draw from the House of Commons a resolution on the Home Rule controversy. The Conservative party used to pose as the political bulwark and authority, dignity and security of the throne. The Unionists are not upholding the tradition. The farther the King is kept away from the Home Rule question the better for the throne, the nation and the empire.

Some newspapers which are not notable for knowing what is going on in the world are engaged in a campaign to keep the public believe there is no such thing as "white slavery" outside the imagination of excitable people. "White slavery," they claim are invariably willing to be "enslaved" and to remain so, and they urge that the term be abandoned for the other nomenclature of crime. The word "white slavery" is overworked, but there has been and is an organized system of enforced and commercialized vice to which no other name can be applied. It is a system which is invariably willing to be "enslaved" and to remain so, and they urge that the term be abandoned for the other nomenclature of crime. success. This is a time when all governing people in the United States, and especially leaders in the Democratic party, might be expected to tender to the European Powers some assurance that the duty undertaken will ultimately be discharged, rather than to hurt threats at the Powers that whatever happens or does not happen in Mexico they will undertake to protect the property of their subjects there. One purpose the deliverance of Mr. Clark should accomplish. It should make the Democratic party and the whole people of the United States thankful that Woodrow Wilson got the nomination.

It is right enough that seniority should count for promotion in the street railway service, provided it is accompanied by ability. But in selecting successors for the system ability should come first, and all other considerations nowhere if the ability does not exist.

Only about forty-three per cent of newcomers who passed through the local immigration last year were English-speaking. The drift of the whole immigration movement, as shown by the figures, is toward a similar preponderance of non-English-speaking immigrants. That tendency should be reversed.

The Army and Navy Gazette cannot understand why Col. Sam Hughes calls the competitors for the Kolapore and MacKinnon cups "hot hunters." No more do the war office officials know why he calls them "faddists." As things are shaping, Col. Sam will just have to go to England this summer and tell a few people there what he thinks of them.

as seldom occurs, clearly or government offer him an asylum. It is this not slavery—real, terrible and enduring—what is it? No doubt to employ the term indicates a certain degree of significance when applied to the business of enforced vice. But the more thoroughly the idea that a life of vice is a life of slavery is imbedded in the public mind, the fewer the simple-minded creatures who will voluntarily embrace it, and the more aggressive will public opinion become in the pursuit of the comparatively real and really existing "slaver."

Murphy's Days Numbered In Organized Baseball

Unless National League Drops Chicago Magnate Ban Johnson
Threatens to Dissolve National Agreement—Chi.
Fans Boycott Cubs

the Bulletin Letter to Wive, CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—"The American League has declared war," said Dan Johnson today. "We will stop at nothing to get the National League out of the American League agreement of the Chicago National Club from organized baseball. It is my duty to get the National League out of the National League and Gerry Hermann, president of the National League, out of the National League. I will remove from the National League any club owner held to be a detriment to the National League."

Johnson, roused by Chas. W. Murphy's threat to take legal action against him, said today that he would not be deterred by the threat.

Murphy could have obtained without the aid of Evers.

"Of course, Evers was dropped in accordance with the provisions with which we agreed," said Murphy. "I am sure he was signing before he signed, but we don't want that kind of thing in the National League. We don't want any more of that kind of thing in the National League, and we don't want any more of that kind of thing in the National League."

Murphy Combs-Back.

Murphy late today said he had not heard from his lawyers on the subject of threatened suit against John Evers, but he said, however, that the suit would be filed.

Murphy added to previous statements that he would enforce the decision of the grand jury in the case of Houston, or join in them from playing. He also said he had not yet released Evers.

A movement against patronage in the city was made today by a group of small white men who were released by the discharge of Evers, Mayor

Hans Milt Murphy.
"I am clothed with absolute power

Martha Tener, Hermann, Biker, Dreyfus and three or four others, I told them that if the National League could not control this discontented element here in Chicago the American League would no longer be able to do so with their organization. I told them that Tener and Hermann should have the power that I have to remove any club owner who was a menace to the game. There will be no backward step on the part of the American League. We are prepared to go to any length to get rid of this influence in Chicago.

The New York Times.

Johnson said the entire baseball world was indignant that Evers should have been sent to jail. "I am sure there had been no strike if the day before last started on his training trip. Nothing would have happened to baseball," he declared. "Evers had just before been sent twice to look over training quarters and had been commissioned to sign a number of players; men whose signatures I doubt,
